Lawatsch Ernst
Rotneusiedl 48, XI/
Wien, Austria

Dear Ernst:

As I was going through some old papers the other day, I came across a letter that you had written me as a pen pal or friend abroad back about twenty years ago. I am just curious enough to see if you are still living at this address and how everything is getting along with you over near Vienna.

If you have time, please answer this letter.

Sincerely yours,

Paul L. Blawie
